

Rita Angus, Central Otago, 1954-1956

Andy Goldsworthy, Rowan Leaves Laid Around Hole, 1987

These images are of artworks by two different artists.

The first artwork is by an artist called Rita Angus. She has Painted an outdoor nature scene of Central Otago, which is located in the South Island of New Zealand.

The second artwork is by a British artist called Andy Goldsworthy. Unlike Rita Angus' artwork, this artwork is not a painting. Instead, the artist has gone outside to gather different coloured leaves, and placed them around a hole in the ground. He then has taken a photo of his artwork to capture it! This is an example of Environmental Art.

What colours can you see in these artworks?

What objects or things can you see in these artworks?

Which artwork is your favourite? What do you like about it?

Rita Angus, Central Otago, 1954-1956

Andy Goldsworthy, Rowan Leaves Laid Around Hole, 1987